

LOCAL SOCIAL EVENTS

Charity Ball Success:

One of the most enjoyable social affairs ever staged in this city was the Quota Club ball held last evening at the Fairmont Hotel with approximately six hundred in attendance. The assembly room of the hotel was in gala attire for the occasion. The ceiling having been done by the H. Weber & Sons Co., with ferns, smilax and chrysanthemums from both the Weber and the Hauge greenhouses. Great ropes of smilax were suspended from ceiling and cornices, while palms and ferns were placed about the room with large baskets of mums adding to the pretty effect. As the dancing progressed colored spot lights were thrown on the dancers, this feature being in charge of Lewis Knight, the equipment having been obtained from the laboratory of the Fairmont Normal School.

The members of the football squad of the University of Virginia, who were honor guests of the club, were asked to take their places along the wall of the ball room while the crowd was pushed back to the other wall. The spot light was then thrown on the team and the team introduced to the dancers. Loud cheers arose, and the football players were given the club hat by the members of the club and their guests.

A large punch bowl had been placed on the mezzanine floor, from which punch was served during the evening by the Quotarians. An intermission was taken during the program and Jack Abbott and Lamar Satterfield, local basso and tenor delighted their hearers with several musical selections. The feature was one of the most enjoyable of the entire evening.

Dancing began at 9 o'clock and continued until 1 o'clock. The music furnished by Mack's Orchestra was exceptionally good, and the musicians responded to encore after encore.

The patronesses of the ball were Mrs. and Mrs. C. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Shaver, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brett, Mrs. J. M. Black, Major and Mrs. Earl H. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wiegand, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Brady, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Lively, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Engle, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver A. Wood, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Waddell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Hartley, Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Howard.

Aside from being a most enjoyable affair, the ball proved to be a great financial success, and the club will realize a handsome sum, which it proposes to devote to charitable causes, one of which will be the Christmas party to be given to a number of poor children at the Christmas season. The fact that the attendance was large was due to the untiring efforts of the Quotarians, who were busy for days disposing of the tickets. Two teams were in charge of the ticket selling. Miss Lona Hamilton headed the blue team, while Miss Dale Westfall headed the gray team. The losing team, which in this instance was the blue team, lost at some time in the future great the winning team to dinner. Miss Hamilton's team sold 174 tickets, netting $348, while Miss Westfall's sold 278 tickets, netting $555.

Mrs. D. M. Osmond, chairman of the program committee, was in direct charge of the ball and was assisted by other members of her committee and by the welfare committee, of which Miss Mary Devol is chairman. Each and every Quotarian worked faithfully for the success of the ball.

The club proposes to give an annual charity benefit.

Mrs. T. M. Courtney, club president in behalf of the club, has issued a statement thanking Manager Robert H. Patt for courtesies shown, Weber's and Hauge's floral decorations, and Mack's Orchestra, Lewis Knight and many others who contributed to the success of the evening.

Rummage Sale

The members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First M. E. Church will hold a rummage sale all next week in the Yost Building, 428 Main street. Wearing apparel and other articles will be on sale.

Supper Served

The meeting of the Asher Business Girls' Bible Class was held Thursday evening at the Y. W. C. A. The study hour was conducted by Mrs. C. A. King, and several musical numbers were added to the evening's enjoyment. Supper was served at 6 o'clock.

Program Decided Success

The music department of the Woman's Club scored another big success yesterday when it presented an artistic musical program at the general meeting of the club held in the Masonic Temple. A program of well selected numbers was splendidly interpreted by a number of Fairmont musicians and a large audience of club women was entertained. The soloists were Clyde Beckett, alto; Mrs. Maude Saunders, soprano; Carl McElfresh, tenor; and Miss Hazel Beck, accompanist.

Mr. Beckett sang two groups of songs and also sang with Mrs. Bailey. Mr. Beckett, who is soloist in the choir of the M. P. Temple, was at his best, and he sang several numbers most acceptably to his audience.

Mrs. Bailey's singing yesterday was up to her usual high standard. Mr. Beckett's and Mrs. Bailey's duet, "Passage Birds are well," was among the prettiest numbers of the program. The group of cello numbers played by Carl McElfresh placed him before the Women's Club as one of the musician of the city, as his numbers were unusually beautiful. Mr. McElfresh is the leader of the popular orchestra, and his playing yesterday showed he is master of classic compositions as well as those of lighter vein.

A pleasing number of the program was the chorus selection, "Bridal Chorus" from the Rose Maiden, sung by voices selected from among the members of the music department. Eighteen of the representative women voices of the city sang in this chorus and delighted their hearers to such an extent that it was suggested that the women be organized into a permanent chorus.

The program in its entirety was rendered as follows:

"Phyllis has such Charming Graces" Old English
"Best Song" "The War" Ware
"Shepherd" "The Horses" Horses
"Fighting Man" "The Horses" Horses
Mr. Clyde Beckett, Baritone.
"I Wept, Beloved, as I Dreamed" George Hue
"When Spring Awakes" H. Clough Leichter
"A Little Maiden Loves a Boy" H. Clough Leichter
Maude Saunders, Soprano.
Cello Selections, "Salabonde" Bohm
Aria, from the "Pearl Fishers" Bisset
Carl McElfresh, Tenor.
"Tired Hands" Sanderson
"Ballad of the Boney Fiddler" Hammond
Mr. Beckett.
"Passage Birds Farewell" Duet, Mrs. Bailey and Mr. Beckett.
"Bridal Chorus" (The Rose Maiden) Cowen
Women's chorus from the music department.

All the numbers were sympathetically and skillfully accompanied by Miss Hazel Beck, one of the city's most accomplished pianists.

Mrs. James Hooton Thomas, chairman of the department, was assisted by others of the department in arranging and carrying out the program. The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. Sidney Reynolds, Mrs. J. Frank Ritchie, Mrs. A. E. Marshall and Mrs. A. D. Simon.

Preceding the musical program, Mr. Joseph Rosier, club president, presided, and Mrs. Otis G. Wilson, vice president, presented an amendment to the constitution to be voted upon at the next meeting and also talked for four minutes concerning the Union Christian Colleges of the Orient, for which a campaign is being waged to obtain three million dollars.

The amendment referred to has to do with the issuance of membership cards only after dues have been paid and the paying of 50 cents on failure to present the card at the door at the meetings, the sum to be refunded upon the presentation of the card.

Mrs. G. W. Kinsey, who is in charge of the Red Cross Roll Call, made a short talk in which she solicited the cooperation of the club members in the drive.

Mrs. Avon J. Reynolds, chairman of the home economics department, made an announcement of the meeting of the department on Monday afternoon, at which time Mrs. Chester B. Storey, dress economist of Pittsburgh, will address the club.

Mrs. John S. Pierpont made an announcement for the American citizenship department, which will hold its meeting on Thursday afternoon at the Masonic Temple. An interesting program will be observed at this meeting.

New members received into the club were Mesdames Lawrence McCray, R. S. Reid, Malcolm O'Neill, D. B. Powell, W. S. Swiger, Ward Lanham, E. L. Ludwig, Henry Mulligan, Charles U. Michael, T. H. Miller, B. M. Keith, W. B. Huffman, John B. Hicks, J. Fred Hunsaker, W. E. Gwynn, Gail Fishback, L. C. Englund, Curtis E. Beatty, Chester Bobbett, Daniel Carpenter, O. P. Donehue, and the Misses Frances McCray, Meta Galliber, Mary Moulds Hurst.

Square Dance

The Protracted Home Circle will hold an old-fashioned square dance at the Italian-American Building, Jackson street, next Tuesday evening. All the members and their friends have been invited to attend.

Double Wedding

Announcement has been made of the marriages of Miss Gabelle Rowlands and Carroll West and Miss Frances West and Harry Rowlands on Tuesday, November 14, at Oakland, Md. The ceremonies were performed by the Rev. N. Grubb, pastor of the Methodist Church. The two couples returned here after the ceremony.

Miss West and Mr. West are daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. West of Maryland avenue and Miss Rowlands and Mr. Rowlands are the daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Rowlands of Norval street, East Side. City West is connected with the City Ice Co. and Mr. Rowlands is associated with his father, who is manager of the Fort Grant Coal Co.

Meeting Monday

"As Others See Us" will be the subject of the address to be given on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Chester B. Storey of Pittsburgh, dress economist, will deliver the talk before the home economics department of the Woman's Club. Mrs. Storey will have a number of dresses on living models which will illustrate her lecture. Mrs. Storey gave a talk on dress on another occasion in this city, displaying dresses on living models, and the affair was much enjoyed. Other features will be added to the program of the afternoon, which is in charge of Mrs. Avon J. Reynolds, chairman of the department, and these will consist of a solo by Mrs. Oliver A. Wood and a demonstration by Miss Edna Miller. Owing to the unusual interest which has been aroused by Miss Storey's visit to this city, the club management has announced the non-members of the club may hear the address by the payment of 50 cents. Members of the club have all been invited to hear the address, whether or not they are members of the home economics department, but members are being urged to bring their membership cards as otherwise 50 cents will be charged for admission, the sum to be refunded upon the presentation of the card. The meeting will begin promptly at 2:30.
